CHRIST WITHOUT ADAM:
SUBJECTIVITY AND
SEXUAL DIFFERENCE IN THE PHILOSOPHER’S PAUL

Benjamin Dunning, Professor at Fordham University, will discuss his book Christ Without Adam: Subjectivity and Sexual Difference in the Philosopher’s Paul. Trained not only in early Christianity but also in critical and feminist theory, Professor Dunning is especially interested in furthering the conversation between the history of Christianity, philosophical theology, and contemporary theories of the subject.

Thursday, October 16, 2014
4:00 pm
Braun Room, Andover Hall
Harvard Divinity School

This event is sponsored by
New Testament and Early Christianity Program and